Difficult Words List

A list of 600 words that many people find difficult to spell. Sets 1 - 20 give the High Frequency Difficult Words in decreasing order of frequency. Sets 21 - 60 give the balance of the 600 words sorted in alphabetical order. The following 50 samples are taken from the extended list.

SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE SAMPLE

Category	Word	Sentence
High Frequency In Order	always	We always go to the beach on Sundays.
High Frequency In Order	having	We are having pizza for dinner.
High Frequency In Order	making	I am making a cake for your birthday.
High Frequency In Order	every	She ate every lolly, so there are none left!
High Frequency In Order	another	Please may I have another slice of cake?
High Frequency In Order	work	I work hard at school each day.
High Frequency In Order	guess	Can you guess how many lollies I have in my pocket?
High Frequency In Order	you're	"You're" is a short way of saying "you are".
High Frequency In Order	quiet	We like the peace and quiet of the countryside.
High Frequency In Order	grass	Each week he cuts the grass with the lawn mower.
High Frequency In Order	hospital	Sick people go to the hospital to get better.
High Frequency In Order	none	He ate it all and left none for me!
High Frequency In Order	practice	The doctor's practice is open tomorrow.
High Frequency In Order	used	I used his tools to repair my bike.
High Frequency In Order	stretch	I like to stretch when I get out of bed each day.
High Frequency In Order	written	He let some of his friends read the book he had written.
High Frequency In Order	except	Everyone went except Kim, who stayed at home.
High Frequency In Order	furniture	A lounge is the only piece of furniture in our family room.
High Frequency In Order	meant	I meant to bring the book back, but I forgot.
High Frequency In Order	babies	The mother duck was followed by her babies.
High Frequency In Order	biscuit	I ate a chocolate-chip biscuit for morning tea.
High Frequency In Order	hour	The clock on the wall chimes every hour.
High Frequency In Order	police	We need police to help keep law and order.
High Frequency In Order	trouble	He was in big trouble when he was caught stealing.
High Frequency In Order	business	My Dad runs a retail business in the centre of town.
High Frequency In Order	exercise	We do ten minutes of exercise before class each morning.
High Frequency In Order	horizon	The sun sets over the horizon at the end of each day.
High Frequency In Order	interested	If you are interested in reading the book you may borrow it.
High Frequency In Order	lightning	Lightning struck the tree and split it in half.
High Frequency In Order	queue	Please queue in this line to buy your tickets.
High Frequency In Order	tongue	I used my tongue to lick the ice cream.
High Frequency In Order	truly	The hike over the mountains was truly wonderful.
High Frequency In Order	journey	Sally went on a journey around Australia.
High Frequency In Order	pilot	The pilot checked his plane before taking off.
High Frequency In Order	since	I have grown a lot since the start of the year.
High Frequency In Order	usually	Dad usually has sugar with his coffee.
High Frequency In Order	stony	The path was very stony and hurt my feet as I walked.
High Frequency In Order	woolly	The woolly sheep needed to have its fleece shorn.
High Frequency In Order	sugar	The sugar in soft drink makes it taste sweet.
High Frequency In Order	writing	Jenny is writing a new book.
High Frequency In Order	address	What's the address where the party will be held.
High Frequency In Order	burglar	Our house was broken into by a burglar.
High Frequency In Order	carefully	Handle the glasses carefully so that you don't break them.
High Frequency In Order	difference	The difference between us is that I am tall while you are short.
High Frequency In Order	disappear	The sun will disappear tonight and appear again at dawn.
High Frequency In Order	embarrass	Dad will embarrass us if he wears that silly hat tonight.
High Frequency In Order	guard	The guard watched over the palace to keep the king safe.
High Frequency In Order	particularly	All of the students are good, but Mike works particularly hard.
High Frequency In Order	refrigerator	Joe raided the refrigerator at midnight because he was hungry.
High Frequency In Order	scissors	I will use this pair of scissors to cut out the pattern.